The pastors of the churches in town have been invited by me to visit the Prison, for the purpose of imparting religious instruction to the prisoners, and occasionally they visit the Prison. I make it a special duty to advise all my prisoners, upon their discharge, to conduct soberly and honestly, and in almost all cases receive a promise from them that they will. We have no daily religious services in the Prison. It would afford me great pleasure to answer this question in the affirmative; but our Prison is so small there is no convenience for such services. There is no work performed in the Prison, of course, as we have but 5 F six rooms used for the confinement of prisoners, the Prison being one of the smallest, I believe, in the commonwealth. I am, dear sir, yours respectfully, John Ackerman. barnstable, May...
